Senate Moward C. Webb.

In the senate Howard C. Webb was chosen judge of the same court before the house resolution reached that body. Senator Mitchell put in the resolution.

There was not a quorum present. The democrats were for Mr. Webb and the ineffectual opposition came from Sen-discussion in the corridors as to whether or not Mr. Webb had been elected in concurrence, the house previously having been in his favor with the senate for Judge Mathewson. Parliamentarians claimed that there could not have been concurrent action, as both bodies had previously voted to adhere, ending the matter there. The resolution in Mr. Hoyt's favor today put the house on record which would nullify its previous action.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 19.-Never be- | not expected it would come up and he fore was such a proceeding as that had arranged with Senator Peck to have the matter tabled. It would be a which was witnessed in the senate chamber this afternoon recorded in the break that agreement. It would also be unfair to consider the matter in his absence, as Senator Barnum was the rounded the governor's veto of the sectiout River company's charter emendment which had previously been cassed in the house over the veto. The senate had cleaned up its business except the matter of the governor's veto of the resolution which dominates the charter smendment of the Connecticut River company and what has been called the Judson amendment.

Two Gratuities Proposed. he senate was about to adjourn en Senator Mitchell asked for a littie delay, as the main bill was coming over from the house, having been passed over the veto.

While waiting, Senator Barnum put in a resolution to pay Albert C. Baldvin, the engrossing clerk, and George E. Hinman $500 each for "special service."

Lack of Quorum Disclosed.

At once a dozen senators who have opposed gratuities started for the doors. Senator Woodruff, who was against the resolution, stayed inside, and when the rolicall which had been ordered had been called he doubted the vote. This disclosed a no-quorum, and the chair, after Senator Spellacy had pointed out that the adjournment could be in the nature of a short recess, ordered rocess until 2.20. several senators were coming in—he wanted the matter discussed. He thought Senator Fenn could explain it. Wilton, Conn. Sept. 19.—It was thought for a time late today that the three days' hunt for the supposed murderer of Harry H. Maudlin had been successful, when a man answering the description of the man wanted was placed under arrest in the Huckleberry Hill district. The man, who later proved to be Philip Dawneil, was walking along the rod near where the now much wanted man was last seen and answered his description both as to looks and clothing so closely that he was placed in custody and later taken to Norwalk, where he is being detained. As he was speaking Senator Spellacy rose and went out a side door, banging the door after him and making the Senator Fenn said that the matter had been all explained. As for Sena-tor Barnum's presence being needed, all that senator had ever said was that he favored the charter amendment and thought it ought to pass. There was no use, the senator thought, to do any action because Mr. Barnum was not there. He pointed out that Senator Spellacy had only two minutes before that declared his intention of staying until evening to dispose of the matter and yet "he had gone out, slamming the door behind him."

After a closer examination it was found that he was fully two inches found that he was fully two inches taller than the wanted man, but, like the fugitive, he is slightly demented and has been employed on a farm in West Norwalk. Besides his answering the description of the lost man, he was carrying a loaf of bread under an arm and was not able to give a satisfactory account of where he was going of what he intended to do.

The search continued all day and into tonight, with 15 or 20 deputy sheriffs aided by state police and residents of the vicinity, but no trace of the wanted man was found, and it is thought that he has either been taken care of by friends or has made good his escape.

That reciprocity is undesirable, but not the most vital factor involved in his opposition, was insisted upon by Mr. Bourassa. Eventual annexation of Canada by the United States, if not by force, certainly as a result of preliminary commercial assimilation following reciprocity, the folly and worse of the government legislation for the nucleus of a Canadian navy, and the necessity of perpetuating various rights and advantages enjoyed by the French-speaking population of the Dominion, especially in Quebec province, were also important factors, he asserted.

HOOTED AND HISSED. Senator Hooker said that this was the most iniquitous measure which had ever come before any legislature. He was in favor of staying all night in order to get a vote, and even of send-ing the sheriff out to bring in the ab-sent senators. "We must get a quorum which is not under the control of the lobby in the employ of the Connecticut River company." "Almighty Dollar the Motive Power."

Mr. Mahan said he could not express adequately his disgust over the situation. He said there was only one motive behind this excitement, and that was "the power of the almighty dollar." He said that here was a proposition worth millions of dollars and here also is a bill which is designed to cave away this franchise without safe-

RECIPROCITY WAS THE ISSUE

Enthusiastically Bourassa Tells His Auditors That Reciprecity Will Lead to Annexation

Montreal, P. Q. Sept. 18.—The popularly termed "reciprocity campaign," which has been the most bitterly contested in the history of the Canadian regions and has made Dominion politics as never before a matter of world knowledge and interest, was brought practically to a close tonight, when enormous outdoor meetings in French districts of this city were addressed by two leading and strikingly contrasting figures in the contest, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Henri Bourassa.

Both Greetsd With Enthusiasm

Both Greeted With Enthusiasm, Both the premier, who has been reciprocity's most prominent exponer and the national leader, whose unique opposition and propaganda probably have done more than anything else to increase the number of question marks set against names of constituencies by political forecasters, were greeted with the enthsulasm typical of the politically susceptible French element

That reciprocity is the supreme issue, not only of this campaign, but of Canada's development, and that next Thursday's balloting affords an unprecedented opportunity for accelerating the Dominion's development of its wonderful resources, while assuring simultaneous benefits to the United States as to the other party to the agreement was the reiteration of Sir Wilfrid in his appeal for continuance of his government regime.

HOOTED AND HISSED. Laurier Has Disagreeable Experience on Way to Take His Train.

Montreal, Sept. 19 .- Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who made several speeches here tonight, left Montreal, followed by a storm of hoots and hisses from the followers of Bourassa, nationalist leader. The latter on conclusion of a speech in the Ontario rink, proceeded with his followers to the Placeviger station, where he delivered another short address. While Bourassa was talking, the premier and his followers arrived, Sir Wilfrid Laurier being on his way to catch the 11.45 train for Quebec. The nationalists espied the premier, and, remembering the heckling and jeers which their leaders had encountered which their leaders had encountered from the liberals on his recent tour, broke into a storm of jeers. No per-sonal violence was offered, however, end the premier got away according to schedule.

Police Called Out. Following this demonstration clashes occurred between the followers of Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Bourassa, and so threatening was the aspect that the police were called out.

The killing was the result of bad blood that has existed between the two men for several months.

Both men figured in a recent attempt to break jail and both were sentenced to hang under a new law which makes it a capital offense for a life termer to attempt to break jail. Oppenheimer is one of the most notable criminals of the west. He has killed two men and figured in several attempted jail deliveries. He has been the most unruly prisoner in the history of Foisom.

"I just wanted to add another scalp are recomplished, and when about fifty feet from the ground attempted to cut on to the second parachute, but the distance was not great enough, and before it opened he struck the ground, breaking his arms, injuring his spine and breaking several ribs, one of which it is thought punctured his lungs. He was taken to a Hartford hospital, where his condition is critical.

tern atto my belt," is his explanation of his deed.
After the attack in the corridor, Quijada statigered to his cell and died.
The iron bar with which Oppenheimer made his murderous attack was wrenched from a prison bucket.
Only a few days ago Quijada informed Warden Reilly that he would meet his fate on the gallows gladly if Oppenheimer was hanged first,
"If they hang him first," he said, "I will willingly put the noose around my own neck."

Was taken to a Hartford hospital, where his condition is critical.
As Burkington left the balloon it rose to a height of 700 feet before Marsh cut loose. He safely negotiated two of his drops, but the third he attempted too near the ground and struck heavily before his fall had been broken by the chute, but he escaped serious injury and was cared for in this city, Burkington landed just outside the fence of the fair grounds and Marsh in a cornfield a few hundred feet away.

MILK PRICE WILL BE

Milk Producers Reach This Decision at Meeting in Boston.

Boston, Sept. 19.—The milk produc-ers of New England will demand from ers of New England will demand from the contractors an increase of two cents per can of $ 1-2 quarts, over last winter's prices for the next six months, according to action taken late today at a meeting of the Boston Co-operative Milk Products company. The increase in price, which is fixed as the minimum raise to be asked, will affect only a restricted zone, benefiting producers in the so-called middle zone, which is 55 to 75 miles from Boston.

The producers adjourned for one

The producers adjourned for one week in order that dealers might con-sider the proposition and also further consult the producers. Representa-tives from Connecticut were present.
